Virtual work experience really took off during COVID and since then it has continued to evolve with many employers offering opportunities without geographical and cost barriers. From dentistry to technology and law to management there are opportunities for all on their platform.

The process of applying for UCAS is changing so even if you have recently had a son or daughter go to university it may well be different for your next child. By signing up to the Parents Newsletter you can ensure you are fully informed about the UCAS process and be better placed to offer advice and support.

Fine Art Curator

Art curators plan and organise art exhibitions at museums, galleries, and other institutions. They select and arrange artworks to create narratives that provide an engaging experience for visitors. A love of art, an eye for detail and impeccable planning skills are essential for this job. Most curators will start their career by gaining a degree in art history or fine arts and will build on this by completing work experience.
