We are seeing growing interest among our pupils in joining the armed forces, possibly driven by concerns about job security, the rise of AI and student debt. The armed forces offer exciting and rewarding career opportunities, but for families without a military background, the recruitment process can often seem complex and confusing. This online session is designed to give parents clarity and confidence about the opportunities available within the British Army.

Adam recently served as a judge for the Dixon Cup, and he is a proud Old Novaportan as well as a highly successful theatremaker. He specialises in playwriting, directing, producing and performing. Adam's love for the stage began during his time at Adams, where he was heavily involved in events such as the Dixon Cup and our annual school production. He even wrote his own stage adaptation of Frankenstein, which was performed on the old senior boarding lawn to great acclaim.

The University of Leicester is offering an exciting range of 16+ subject taster days for Lower Sixth pupils. Each event includes opportunities to explore the campus, meet current students and take part in hands-on, interactive activities. A wide variety of subjects are available, including brain health, law and criminology, engineering and business.

Ever wondered what goes on behind the scenes at a football club? Maybe you've thought about working at one but assumed you'd need to be a die-hard fan or the next rising star to get a foot in the door. The truth is, beyond the players and managers, there's a whole team of professionals whose work is essential to success on the pitch. Click the link to read a BBC Bitesize article highlighting three surprising careers in football that you might not have considered before.
